

I had the opportunity to work on some 3D visualizations for interactive training material related to natural disasters.