

- visualizing and rendering various natural disasters
- distributed rendering locally on several machines
- physics simulation including fluids, smoke, collisions, and destruction