Headed a software development team in a small company developing an ambitious online multiplayer game.